The former Cerman Artilleric Kaserne south of the city center was occupied by Polish troops. The barracks installation was located on both sides of ul. Potulicka, formerly Bellevuestrasse, and bordered on ul.Marutowicza, formerly Friedrichstrasse, on the north, and on ul.Gen.Sowinskiego and ul.Gzarneckiego, formerly Koernerstrasse and Muchlanbergstrasse respectively, on the south. The gutted former Preussen Fort was about 300 meters west of the barracks installation. The troops practiced on the training grounds adjoining the barracks installation to the south. Another barracks installation occupied by Polish troops was located next to the Artilleric Kaserne. The former Alte Grenadier Kaserne which was north of the Artilleric Kaserne was	25X1

- 8. A Polish signal-communications detail of about 20 troops wearing khaki uniforms was quartered in the former apartment house at 14a ul. Wh. Czajkowskiego, formerly Altdonnerstrasse, about 2.5 km from the bridge across the Parnitz bivor. The detail was repeatedly observed doing line construction.
- 9. A NOP (Border Guard Corps) unit of company strength, wearing khaki uniforms and caps with green bands, was quartered in the three-story building of a former asphalt shingle factory, which had a street frontage of about 40 meters and was located on Altdammerstrasse near the Czech (sic) harbor. The border goard throops were apparently hand-picked personnel and were more disciplined than Polish Army throops.

25X1 Comments.

- (1) The designation "corps headquarters" is the approximate equivalent of an MD headquarters. However, since no MD headquarters is carried in Stettin, it may have been the Hq 12th Inf Div which was confirmed there prior to mid-1949. No information has been received on a transfer of the division headquarters.
- 12) We information is available on the occupation of these former German barracks installations.
- (3) Possibly the former Neue Artilleric Kaserne.
- (h) Large barracks installations are located east of Kreckow with Soviet troops occupying those on the east side of Mickiewieza and WOP troops those on the west side of the street.
